

RECIPES TO FIGHT PAIN: 20 HEALTHY RECIPES FOR PAIN MANAGEMENT WITH FOODS THAT ACT AS PAIN KILLERS

The science of nutrition is relatively new but it is becoming widely respected as scientists and doctors acknowledge the vital influence of food intake on the body reminding us that we are what we eat. Scientists have proven that some foods are excellent pain killers. That is why they act as analgesics and help the body to reduce sensitivity of pain nerves. Other foods are excellent anti-inflammatories. Normally, inflammation occurs in response to injury and attack by germs but sometimes the immune system mistakenly attacks normal tissues in autoimmune diseases, like arthritis, rheumatoid diseases and fibromyalgia. This book contains 20 healthy recipes based on foods that have been proven to fight pain to include them in your daily meal.
