

The Voice of Tobacco: A Dedicated Smokers Diary of Not Smoking

An entertaining and useful book about giving up tobacco for those who thoroughly enjoy smoking but realise its time to stop. Most smokers hate being lectured about their habit by sanctimonious prigs who think they should give it up. And yet there does come a time when they realise they need to stop smoking. Richard Craze's diary tells it straight: what it's really like to give up smoking. The headaches, the sleeplessness, the irritability. And The Voice. He's been there, and his diary reports back from the front line. It may not be pleasant, but it's honest. This is the diary of a dedicated and happy smoker who is now not smoking.
