

Call to Mission: Your Will Be Done: The Salvation Armys Mission Symposium 2013

In June 2013 The Salvation Army in the United Kingdom with the Republic of Ireland held its first Mission Symposium at Londons William Booth College under the theme Call to Mission: Your Will Be Done.

With key note addresses from Lt Col Karen Shakespeare, Bishop Graham Cray (Fresh Expressions) and Graham Tomlin (Dean of St Mellitus College), and presentations from those involved in mission across the territory, the Mission Symposium was held to inspire and shape The Salvation Armys missiological thinking and practice. This e-book contains all 20 papers from the symposium, with an additional introduction written by Major Gordon Cotterill and a concluding reflection from Major David Taylor. The Mission Symposium was a joint initiative between The Salvation Armys William Booth College and the Evangelism Department of The Salvation Army United Kingdom Territory with the Republic of Ireland, chaired by Major Drew McCombe.
