

Ritual, Power and Gender: Explorations in the Ethnography of Vanuatu, Nepal and Ireland (Sydney series)

This book, a collection of papers spanning the years between 1972 and 1999 explores some of the complex ways in which ritual, power and gender intersect with and influence one another. In reading this book one not only discovers the different cultural worlds of Vanuatu, Nepal and Ireland, but also a history of anthropological theory that ends with a powerful vision of the relation between the individual and society.
