

Fashions World Cities (Cultures of Consumption Series)

New York, Paris, London, Milan, Tokyo. This familiar list of cities conjures up the image of high fashion. This book examines the powerful relationship between metropolitan modernity and fashion culture. The authors look at the significance of certain key sites in fashions world order and at transformations in the connections between key cities. The status of fashion capital has now become a goal for urban boosters and planners, part of the wider promotion of the cultural economy of major cities. In a rapidly changing global fashion system, new centres like Shanghai are making claims to join the ranks of Fashions World Cities. In chapters ranging from Los Angeles to Moscow and Dakar to Mumbai, Fashions World Cities explores the relationship between major metropolises and the production, consumption and mythologizing of fashion.
