Hanseatic League: : Helen The Hanseatic League was a commercial and defensive confederation of merchant guilds and their market towns. Growing from a few North German towns in the late 1100s, the league came guilds, or Hansa, with the intention of trading with towns overseas, especially in the economically less-developed eastern Baltic. The Hansa towns - HathiTrust fully agree with Miss Zimmern that there is scarcely a more remarkable chapter in history
