

No Words For Leaving: A collection of poetry

This is a collection of poetry that speaks honestly about the human condition, focusing on the traditional themes of love, loss, and loneliness. But this book also expresses emotions relating to contemporary social issues. For example, in her poem entitled Black Boys the author woefully hopes that they are never innocent. In the poem, Black Girl, Black Girl the poet eloquently relates the message of how women of color are not valued in American culture. Read this book and feel how the authors words seduces the soul like a powerful lover leaving it both satisfied and wanting more at the same time.
