

Living Out Your Faith

Messages From the Gospel of John Its great to tell others about our love for God. Its great to engage in ministry activities for God. And its great to sing songs about our love for God. But what matters more than anything is that we simply obey Him. There are people today who say they are Christians, who say they love God, says pastor and evangelist Greg Laurie. Yet they are blatantly, continuously violating what the Bible teaches. That is not love for God. That is an illusion. In his third volume on the Gospel of John, Greg Laurie encourages us to live out our faith as he looks to selected passages from John 13-21, tracing the steps of Jesus and His disciples through the final hours of His earthly ministry, His crucifixion, and His resurrection. Youll be challenged to start today--or begin anew--to live out your faith as you take a first-century journey through these final, momentous chapters of Johns Gospel.
