

Turn This Church Around!: Intentional Leadership for Church Growth

In churches just like in other major business organisations there is a need to change the way things are done. In Business if things are not succeeding, if there is no growth, they do something about it. Business organisations use a change process a re-engineering or restructuring process. The result for many, is a sustained future, increased growth and the establishment of a great corporate culture. Few churches know how to successfully navigate a change process, but by taking on the success seen in others and by recognising and learning the process they too can move from where they are to a place of significance, with a great church culture created, see a fantastic future ahead and growth at all levels. This is Leadership, intentional leadership to drive the process forward and see their churches become successful, healthy and vibrant in the communities they serve.
