

Toms Two Cents: A Collection of Columns

When you're a cup-a-Joe guy in a latte town, how do you cope with the constant pretension and absurdity? By becoming Central New York's Dave Barry! Humorist Tom Paolangeli, winner of the 2004 New York Press Association Award, has assembled over 50 of his monthly columns from the Ithaca Times for your delight and edification. This collection's zesty ingredients will remind readers of a classic Prego tomato sauce commercial. Ithaca, pace the Utne Reader, may not be America's most enlightened city, but Tom Paolangeli is definitely Upstate's most entertaining humorist. Even if you have never lived in a remote college town, surrounded by ten square miles of reality, read this book. As the New York Press Association observed, you'll appreciate the dose of common sense, and the laughs.

Note: There is also a paperback version available from Amazon that combines this Kindle book with another of Toms. It is called A Guys Secret Guide to Fifty Shades of Grey and Fifty Other Not-So-Secret Essays About Everything Else. Reader Comments: Thanks for your hugely funny and close to the bone commentary! I wasn't sure if I should laugh or cry... - J.O.H. In this week's Ithaca Times, Tom Paolangeli presents a wonderful parody of the situation playing out in Cayuga Heights. Highly recommended reading! - CayugaDeer.org. I enjoyed your article about the new bus stops. Keep up the harassment and try to make sense of this free money project. - R.K. Many thanks for a good laugh! - A.E. Thanks for some hearty laughs - yet another benefit of duct tape! - R.O.C. I think Tom should change his writing column name from Toms 2cents to Toms nonsense. - D.K. (Well, you can't win them all)
